DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hurlimann P.N. 6,522,136 (Hurlimann).

Hurlimann discloses a NMR logging apparatus and method for determining fluid characteristics in an earth formation. Applicant's attention is directed to Hurlimann's claims. Claim 1 for example describes a method that applies a static magnetic field to the formation (step (b)) and applies a sequence of RF pulses to the formation and detects NMR signals resulting from the sequence. See steps 9c0 and (d). The characteristics of the formation are determined from the detected signals (step (e)) taking into account internal field gradients as is apparent from the previous steps. Note that diffusion and relaxation characteristics of the fluid are determined. See that T2 and diffusion is derived from claims 17 and 29 for example. Note further that Hurlimann's method is based on two RF sequences with differing inter-echo spacing as describes in connection with Fig. 3.

Inventorship

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Louis M. Arana whose telephone number is (571) 272-2236. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Thurs. Fridays Off.
